

2010/2011 Guest Lectures

01.10.2010 / 16:00

Dr. Edward Willat, University of Brighton

The History of Architectonics: from the Foundations of Knowledge to Gilles Deleuze's Architectonics of Growth

18.10.2010 / 16:00

Prof. Kate Marshall, University of Notre Dame

Narrative Infrastructures: Architecture, Media, Fiction

08.11.2010 / 16:00

Sebastien Wierinck, OnSite studio, Marseille

Programmatic urban furniture

HPZ F

15.11.2010 / 16:00

Karsten Schmidt aka Toxi, Postspectacular, London

Code as the primary design tool

HIL E 3

22.11.2010 / 16:00

Jessica Rosenkrantz, Jesse Rosenberg, Nervous System, Shutesbury

Programmed design inspired by natural phenomena

HCI J 4

29.11.2010 / 14:00

Alvin Huang, Amanda Levet Architects (former Future Systems), London

Digital Craft: The Grey Area

HIT E 51

20.12.2010 / 14:00

Prof. Achim Menges, ICD Stuttgart

Material Computation

HIT E 51

10.01.2011 / 16:00

Christoph Schindler, Schindler Salmeron, Zürich

An architectural periodization model with criteria of production technology

HCI J 4

17.01.2011 / 16:00

Arnold Walz, Design to Production, Stuttgart

Organize, Optimize, Simplify, Materialize

HCI J 4

28.03.2011 / 16:00

Ruairi Glynn, UCL Bartlett London

Investigating gestural forms of dialogue between inhabitants and an evolving environment

tbd

...

more information on lectures, topics, guests and locations is constantly updated and can be found at

<http://wiki.caad.arch.ethz.ch/Education/GuestLectures>

What's next?

2010. Computers everywhere. Dozens of technologies.
Hundreds of experiments. We have reached the critical mass.