OCEAN TERRITORIES

MARITIME GEOPOLITICS,
MIGRATION AND GLOBAL TRADE
03.10.—05.12.2016
Mon, 5.30–7 pm, ONA Focushalle

Once imagined as a boundless space untouched by human activity, is the ocean today shaped by strategic interests, control of resources and trade routes? Travellers who have been crossing the global ocean following refugee migrations, onboard container ships and along ancient maritime routes, contribute elements for an urban portrait of ocean territories.
